

Paying too much or waiting too long for APPRAISALS?

Save money and time with AVMs.

We are so confident, we will let you try for free!

Do you believe you are paying too much for appraisals? Does it take too long to close your loans?

TheCreditBureau.com is the market leader in offering Automated Valuation Models (AVM) for accurate, fast value estimates and predictive collateral scores for residential properties across the U.S.

Our customers use AVMs for automated underwriting and origination, collateral scoring, appraisal QC, loss mitigation, portfolio valuations, marketing programs and more. AVMs are supported directly by a world-class team of experts in AVM implementation, real estate research, loan markets, data operations, statistics and information technology.

You get the best value for your money. For each search you order, we look at three different large AVM databases. After evaluating and scoring them, we provide you the best.
